RAIN IN THE HEART. [The following lines were found by a Confederate soldier, in a deserted house, on the Peninsula, Va.] "Into each life some rain must fall." If this were all—oh! if this were all, That into each life some rain must fall, There were faint-r sobs in the poet's rhyme, There were fewer wrecks on the shores of time.

But tempests of woe pass over the soul-Since winds of angui-h we cannot control; And shock after shick we are called to bear, Till the lips are white with the heart's despair.

The shores of time with wrecks are strewn. Unto the ear comes ever a moan-Wrecks of nopes that set sail with glee, Wrecks or love, sinking silently.

Many are hid from the human eye, Only God knoweth how deep they lie; Only God heard when arose the cry. "Help me to bear-oh! help me to die." "Into each life some rain must fall," If this were all-on! if this were all;) et there's a refuge from storm and blast, Gloria Patri-we ll reach it at last. Be strong, be strong, to my heart I cry, The perri in the wounded shell doth lie; D ys of sunshine are given to all,
h' Into each life some rain - ust fall "
